

Sic Semper Evello Mortem Tyrannis

We stand on a precipice, our world is very close to ruin. At the hands of relics long past expiration, we will be thrust into a world of inequality and prejudice. A man who is equivalent to a tyrant has been invited into the highest office of the land by those who we call family. Our fellow Americans have failed us, this world is failing us, we have just begun to live and already we are facing the biggest threat to our freedom in modern history and we must face it without the support of those who are meant to love and care for us unconditionally. We are watching our world crumble and fall to its knees, the victory of inequality and unacceptance of difference and uniqueness.

Tyrants have no place in our nation, in our cities, in our world. We must stand up as the true will of the people, stand together and show what it truly means to have power. No longer can we allow this injustice to persist within our very own nation, we must show those who try to silence and oppress us that we will not be complicit in this mistreatment any longer. We hold the true power, that which our opposition could never comprehend, they cannot see why they will inevitably lose. We hold the truest and most pure power of all, the power of love. We love each other, we love the world, we love difference, we welcome diversity with open arms. We do not shun people for being themselves. Those who wish to impose inequality on our lives can't understand the idea of welcoming others who are different.

We must unite as the majority, to protect the minority. We the oppressed refuse to be forced back to a time when we would have to hide our truth out of fear for our lives and safety. No longer will we and our fellows suffer through lives plagued with wrongness being done to us, we won't allow people to tell us we are wrong for existing. We deserve life as much as any human being, we must stand in the face of injustice and show those who wish to be rid of us what happens when you attempt to destroy freedom. These are our lives, our decisions are just that, our decisions. Nobody has the right to take that choice from us, nobody gets to hold power over our lives, not an individual, not a group, not the government. Not an old man who believes he deserves to control the lives and choices of us.

If anybody dares to tread on our freedoms we will show them what happens when you try to push us down. We will claw our way up, we will force ourselves into the spotlight, we will wage war in any way required to defend the freedoms of all peoples of this world. We will take the responsibility and danger upon ourselves for the betterment of the world, we are willing to suffer in defense of freedom, of the ability to choose how we live our lives. We are the people who will have to live in the future, we are entitled to shape it how we wish and as long as we breathe we will defend the future for ourselves and our successors.

As long as a threat to freedom exists we will fight to defend those who are threatened, we can not allow those in power to control our lives and strip away our rights. We are all human and all deserve a life as good as possible, we must stand together as one and defend our freedom. We will defend any and all, no matter what they believe or what they choose. All people deserve to choose for themselves, restricting somebody's choice is a reason to be shamed. We will live life as we wish to live, nobody is allowed to control how we live our lives, we are the defenders of freedom and defenders of choice. From the smallest child to the oldest senior, everyone is human and deserves to live life as they wish; to experience all the beauty that this world has to offer. I implore you to consider what tyranny does to a civilization, we cannot allow this to happen to our homes, the places we have built our lives.

When we stand together as the children of the world, there is nothing we can't achieve, let us unite under the defense of freedom, the defense of our way of life. We must stand resolute in the face of any and all challenges, to protect our world from tyranny and injustice, to defend those who cannot defend themselves. For the wellbeing of every one of our fellow human beings, we must stand together as one in a way we have been trained to be incapable of. We have been trained to remain divided by and and all trivial matters, we cannot let this stand. We will stand side by side, arm in arm, and fight in any way required to defend ourselves and our fellow peoples from the tyranny that threatens the very essence of our lives and freedoms. We must show that we will not be tread upon, that we will defend our lives with all of our abilities, we are not weak, we won't allow these relics of the past to ruin our futures.

It is time to take a stand, to fight for what we know is right, to protect the unprotected and to fight in the interest of bettering our world. We are entitled to shape the future and we are as well responsible for defending it, people and groups loom on the horizon threatening our futures and freedoms. We will not roll over and allow them to do so, we are willing to die in defense of the future. Let us stand together as one, as a united front, and show the world that we are truly capable of defeating a threat even as great as our own government. We stand resolute in the face of any threat because we are the last hope for the future, the last hope for freedom.

The people who we are supposed to rely on for support have ruled in favor of a future filled with bigotry and injustice towards those who can't defend themselves. We will not stand for such an injustice, we will defend freedom with our lives, we can change the tides. We will not allow history to repeat itself, the cycle will not turn again, we will stop it. We will ensure a prosperous life for ourselves and all our fellow peoples as well as our descendants. We will make sure no child will suffer the way we have, nobody will steal their choice or harm them, we will make sure of it. When we stand as one, we are powerful, we will be heard, we will never again be silenced, we refuse to allow our world to return to its old ways of oppression. We will ensure a future free from tyrants and free from injustice. Sic semper evello mortem tyrannis, thus always I cause the death of tyrants. Let that phrase hold true as our turn comes to step onto the stage that is the world we are forced to live in. We the children, We the people, will defend prosperity.

- Yours truly
